

Peter Heimlich has played folk and bluegrass music for more than 50 years as solo performer and in groups around the lakes region for the last 40, as well as being accompanist to the late singer/songwriter/Grammy nominee Bill Morrissey and the very much alive Cormac McCarthy, Jay Moskowitz and Brian Hastings, on 5-string banjo and 6 string guitar. Peter plays his unique arrangements of folk, country, bluegrass and some pop songs and oldies. Some say he sings too! It's all under the heading of "Acoustic Surprises". He's also celebrating 45 years of music with Doug Hazard in the Duo "Hazard and Heimlich with occasional concerts to mark the years of association.

Audiences have seen him open for Elizabeth Cotton (author of "Freight Train") Patty Larkin, Paul Geremia, Chris Smither, Bill Morrissey and other notable folk, bluegrass and blues artists.
