

Writing on the Wall

Investigate!

When the restoration team removes modern wallpaper to look for an earlier wall covering, they sometimes find handwritten inscriptions and pencil drawings on the bare plaster wall underneath. Often, these are simply a carpenter's measurements, but occasionally, odd symbols and words mystify the restoration team. Examine the photographs below and see if you can guess the meaning behind these wall inscriptions and drawings (see the backs for clues).

