

HISTORIAN AT HOME: GENEALOGY

Genealogy is the study of family history – it’s drawing out your family tree, seeing where you came from in the world. We know that Tom’s family immigrated to Maine from Canada. Tom was a first generation American in his family. Olive’s family had lived in New Hampshire generations before her, and they had migrated to Toulon, Illinois.

Draw Your Family Tree

Write in the appropriate names for each spot.

Bonus! See if you can write in any siblings that you, your parents, your grandparents, or great-grandparents might have.

Bonus! See if you can write in where each person was born.

Bonus! Where do you think your aunts, uncles, and cousins might fit in this tree? Add them in here or feel free to draw your own family tree!
